SERENADE.—We return our thanks to the gentlemen composing the magnificent String Band of the 51st Ohio Regiment, for the rich musical treat they honored us with last night. Their band is decidedly the finest it has ever been our privilege to listen to.

Mr. John H. Almond, one of the publishers of this paper, leaves to-day for Louisville. It is his intention during his sojourn in that city, to call upon its business men and solicit advertising for the Union. Any contracts made by him, or his receipt for moneys, will, in all cases, be recognized by this office. THEATRE.- A special treat is in store for those of our military friends who may visit the theatre to-night. The musical drama of the Child of the Regiment, with all its original songs, military marches, etc., will be rendered in the usual excellent manner which has invariably been the case with the talented corps now performing here. In point of musical talent it would be difficult to find more able exponents than Mrs. BERNARD, Mr. PROPERTY, HAMILTON and EVEREYF, all of whom take prominent parts to-night. Another novelty will be the new sung of "Going to Unire," for the first time in Nashville, in which Mr. Durring will perpetrate some novel musical eccentricities. Mr. and Mrs. Turtle will be the

On motion of Capt. JENNY, it was Resolved, That permission be requested for Lieut. Bannows, of company E, to accompany the remains of our lamented brother officer to Nashville to make the necessary arrangements for their transportation to his family in Michigan. The Committee on Resolutions now reported as follows:

WHEREAS, The swift winged messenge of Death has for the third time invaded our ranks and removed from our midst another of the choicest spirits and most promising members of our family circle of officers in the morning of life, while the rich fruits of promise for future usefulness and honor were but just budding for a choice fruition in later manhood : we his bereaved companions in arms do mournfully Rowles, 1st. That in the death of Capt. ALDERT Nyg, the 9th Regiment has lost an accomplished and premising officer, prompt, efficient and untiring in the discharge of duty; of generous and manly impulses and undoubted courage; the country has lost an ardent and truehearted patriot and brave defender; we have lost a kind, genial and esteemed companion and friend; his family a devoted and cherished son and brother, We bear our willing testimony to his marked ability, purity of character and social worth, and mourn his early death as with a brother tenderness and heartelt regret. Resolved, 2d. That while we share with his widowed mother and his family their sincere grief in this affliction, and extend to them a hand chastened with sorrow, we cherish with gratitude and pride the memory of one whose life was a bright example of manly virtue, whose only ambition was to merit reward, and whose inspotted character is a legacy richer and more to be prized than worldly honors and fame.

Resolved, That in our own behalf as well as of the friends of the deceased, we tender to Assistant Surgeon Cynus Surru, to Lieuts, Barnows and Fox of omnany E. and to the others who atended and nursed him, our thanks for their untiring energy and devotion during his last brief illness; and that we are particularly grateful to Major J. The Louisianians in Heavregard's

Army. From the New Orleans Dolts, June 14. When, in March last, Beauregard solicited reinforcements from this State for ninety days, the call was responded to by nearly 5,000 men. This force, we are informed, is mainly composed of the most respeciable youths of this city, and includes a large number of professional gentlemen. In going, there were few of the number that did not make serious sacrifices of interest and feeling, and had they had the remotest idea that they would have experienced ill-treatment, or been kept beyond the stipulated time, few of them would have gone at all-Their promptitude has, we learn on une questionable authority, mct with an unoked-for requiral. It appears that Gen. Bragg, who, upon the death of Gen. Johnson, became secand in command, has constantly displayed a most vindictive spirit toward them. Soon after their arrival at Corinth, he is said to have remarked, regarding them, with a sneer at their social superiority, They have turned out only for ninety shovel and pick-axe in constructing earthworks, or swinging the axe in clearing the woods or opening the roads. To these classes is to be attributed the fearful mortality and the general sickness which it is now known has prevailed in this branch of Beauregard's army more than in any other.

"All Ensy,"

To show how little the war has so far affected the industry of the country, we present the following table, showing the deposits in the Saving's Bank of that State for the last five years, which we find in the New York World ;

Deposita Jan. 1. Amount. · $41,202,000 - 48,194,000 - 58,178,000 67,450,000 1862, 64,083,000

The deposits in the Savings Banks show that there is as much money in the hands of the laboring classes as in any previous year. The three millions withdrawn is more than accounted for by the money invested by the poorer classes in the 7:30 government lean. A large per centage of that security is in the hands of persons who ordinarily invest their spare change in savings institutions.

The following is a very suggestive little card from Newport, Ky.

I am blind and destitute; I suffer, with my blind wife and family; from day to day, for food and clothing. I have not been able to earn anything for over two years. I have not received anything from my sons for over six months, and then not enough to pay for what few groceries I owed.

I understand the Sanitary Committee is feeding the families of the men that my sons are fighting, and I ask said Committee to feed me and my family! Charity begins at home. I am needy of food and clothing.

I and my family and my destitute neighbors with husbands in our army, need to be feed quite as much as the families of rebels whose husbands and faathers are ready to cut our throats.

GODFREY H. PETERS.

Washington, June 26, 1862. The Removal Of Judge Humphreys. There was a meeting of East Tennessceans to-night, for the purpose of designating a suitable person to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Judge Humhreys by the judgment of the Senate The meeting was attended by the most prominent men of Tennessee, and was presided over by Parson Brown-The Hon. Bailie Peyton, a prominent Unionist, and who was a Member of Congress in Gen. Jackson's administra-ion, seconded the nomination of Col. C. F. Trigg, of Knoxville, to fill the vacancy. The Hon. Horace Maynard was depufixed to acquaint the President with the voice of the meeting, and to request the immediate appointment of Colonel Trigg, that Uniouists might hold the Courts of Tennessee, and punish the Rebels. Col. Trigg is an old and tried Unionist, and became a refugee on account of Rebel persecution during the early days of the Rebellion. It is noteworthy that on the very night in which Parson Brownlow was imprisoned in Knoxville by the Tennnessee Rebels Col. Trigg was to be hung, but escaped by precipitate flight. Emancipation in Maryland. Reports from the interior of Maryland are very encouraging as regards the progress of the emancipation movement. From all quarters of the State the intelligence is that a party is growing up in favor of acting upon the principles of the President's gradual emancipation resolution, and the prospect now is that this party will be strong enough to carry the State at the next election. We hear for instance to-day from Dorchester county that the largest slaveholders in the vicinity of Cambridge are in favor of emancipation, believing that it will free the State from the incubus under which it now labors.

-Washington, June 30.-The rumors about foreign intervention are unfounded. The rebels made an attack on our right wing near Mechanicsville, Va. on Thursday and Friday, outnumbering us ten to one. We held our ground. Gen. McClellan was on the field, and expressed his satisfaction at the result.

The New York Tribune Extra, in giving an account of two days' desperate fighting, says our right wing retreated. Over 125,000 troops were engaged.

McCall's division, (Federal,) was the only force engaged in the early part of the fight.
